About Broadway Junction

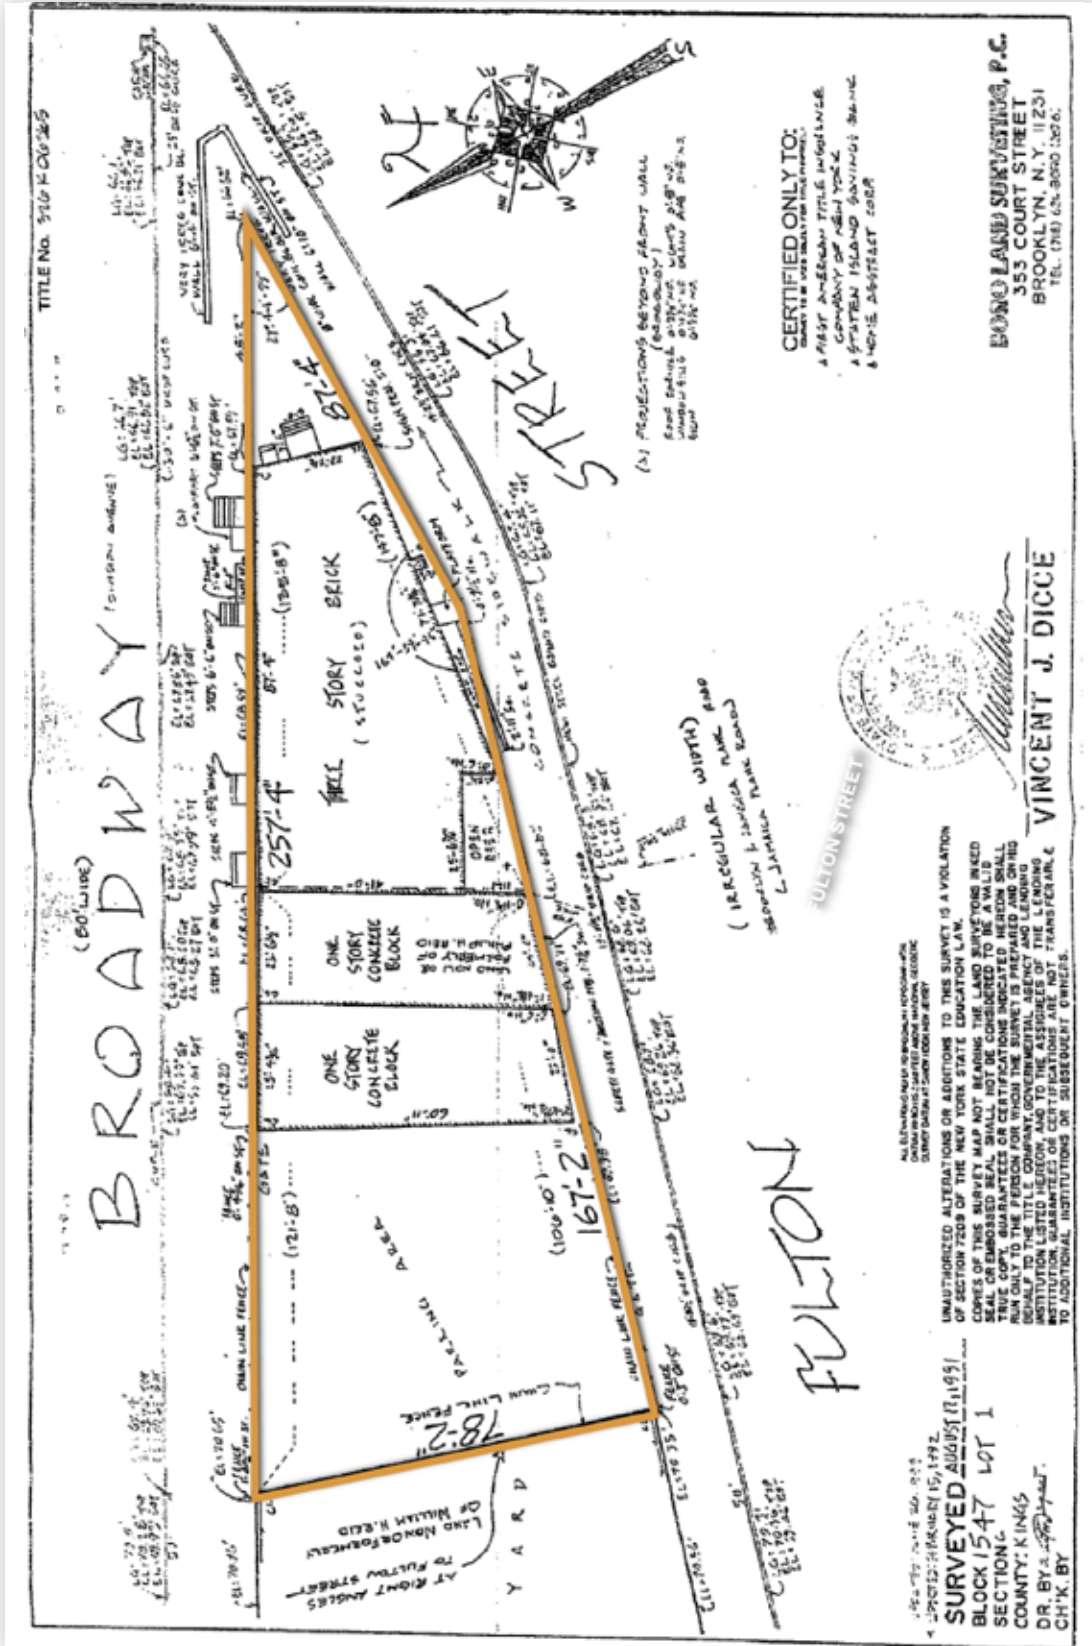

Broadway Junction is one of Brooklyn's major transit centers, sitting at the intersection of five subway lines, six bus routes, and the Long Island Railroad. It is uniquely connected to employment and transit hubs citywide, with a 15-minute ride to Downtown Brooklyn, Jamaica, or Williamsburg; 20 minutes to Lower Manhattan; and 35 minutes to Midtown Manhattan or JFK. It is also the meeting point of six largely residential neighborhoods: Bedford-Stuyvesant, Brownsville, Bushwick, Cypress Hills, East New York, and Ocean Hill.

NYCEDC and the City are committed to long-term equitable growth in Broadway Junction and East New York through:

- Community engagement
- Workforce development
- Public realm improvements
- Establishing a new jobs hub

With improvements to open space, new office development, retail, and housing planned for the area, Broadway Junction will become a true transit hub and thriving 24/7 community.
